

ROTATING EXHIBITIONS General Information

There is a rolling programme of exhibitions lasting for three months at both of the two venues, therefore a commitment of 6 months is expected. Artwork can be changed with the change of venue if needed – but not mandatory.

It is up to individuals to liaise with the Art Alert members who are exhibiting before and after them. The schedule of exhibitors can be found on the Rotating Exhibitions on the Art Alert website (artalertnuneaton.co.uk). It is acceptable to leave a space of a few days at the most between exhibition changeovers. If you are interested in joining the rota please contact Anne Becker or Anne Taylor.

There is an Art Alert information canvas and an A4 Perspex wall holder in both venues. Please put a short biography (if wanted) and a numbered list of your works in the wall holder. List your works with prices or NFS. Affix a laminated number to the back of each of your pictures with Blu Tack so that the number is visible. All work needs to be strung. D-rings are for sale at a nominal price.

A donation of 10% to People in Action at the Mayor's Café in Bedworth would be appreciated when work is sold there.

Anne Becker is willing to help out if needed.

ROTATING EXHIBITIONS Guidelines

There are presently 2 venues for the rotating exhibitions;

1) Giardino's Café, Nuneaton Railway Station

There is a wire hanging system installed on two walls with press-lock hooks. More wires can be slotted into the rails if needed and vice versa. More than one picture can be hung on one wire. Extra wires, hooks and laminated numbers are in a labelled cardboard box in the grey metal cabinet in the Art Alert Station Gallery. A small stepladder is also available (the key to the Station Gallery has to be signed out from the Information Office at the station). The café can get busy, Wednesdays are usually a quieter day. When you go to the café, tell counter staff that you are from Art Alert and that you are changing pictures. Staff are very helpful and will take money for sales if necessary. They have an envelope labelled 'Art Alert' to collect any monies from buyers.

2) People in Action Mayor's Café, Bedworth Miner's Welfare Park

Trellis hanging system with S-hooks and glass 3-D cabinet. Approximately ten pictures can be hung depending on size. The café gets very busy at lunchtimes so between 9am and 10:30am or after 2pm is essential. They have a small stepladder that you can use. The manager's name is Richard. There is no need to contact him prior to your visit. The staff will take any money from sales. Check with them when you go in to see if you have sold anything.
